

Personal Profile

Alexandra Town-Field Illustrator

I am an emerging Illustrator from Preston, Lancashire. I have recently completed a four year degree at The University of Huddersfield, studying BA(Hons) Illustration.

I have a fascination for the design industry and enjoy being involved in concepts for creative projects and collaborating with other creatives.

I am a hard-working individual with an excellent work ethic and I am always willing to experience new opportunities.

I am currently intending to make new connections and begin my career in the design industry as an Illustrator.
