Portfolio

Charlotte Whiteing is a children's illustrator based in West Yorkshire. She has always been encouraged to be creative and draw and subsequently loves to express herself through art. She loves to work with a wide range of materials but mostly used digital and watercolours. The style of her work is cute and colourful to aim at her target audience of children. Charlotte likes to believe she creates her work to be cute, fun and a little bit childish because she never truly grew up and her childlike side is still a bit part of her. Children's books are a passion of hers with her love of reading them and finding new amazing books to love and recommend. She is massively inspired by the children's books she loved as a child, especially the Charlie and Lola series by Lauren Child, the Angelina Ballerina series illustrated by Helen Craig and Mrs Pig's bulk buy by Mary Rayner. Being inspired by nature, animals and the outdoors are common themes as well as anthropomorphic animals. Her work tends to include puns, koalas and a good Yorkshire brew.

Mr. badger's endangered expedition is a children's lift the flap book about a badger showing different habitat environments in the UK and the animals that inhabit them that are threatened with extinction. The book is all illustrated digitally.

Countryside Companions is a children book about a girl who lives on a farm and goes on a little adventure making lots of animal friends. The book was written and illustrated by Charlotte and was illustrated using watercolours and pencils.
